Energy Union Road Map - timeline and overview of its main initiatives

2016 has been described as the “year of delivery” of the European Commission’s Energy Union strategy, which defines the EU’s approach to climate and energy policy for the coming years.

In our Energy Union calendar we include the main initiatives, legislative and non-legislative, that will be put forward by the European Commission this year. We also provide a state of play on the initiatives that have already been presented under the strategy, outlining progress so far and the next steps.
