Spring Budget 2017 Speculation briefing

The next UK Government Budget will take place on 8 March 2017, taking place just days ahead of the Prime Minister officially triggering Article 50.

Theresa May has outlined plans to notify the EU of the UK's intention to leave by the end of March whereby official negotiations with the EU will then commence. The Chancellor's Philip Hammond's first and final Spring Budget will therefore take place against a backdrop of significant posturing for position ahead of these formal negotiations.

Ahead of this key event, Dods Monitoring has pulled together the range of announcements we may expect from the Chancellor's red box, all collated in this compact speculation briefing.
