The addition of cytotoxis drugs under the Carcinogens Directive under debate in Parliament

Following the European Parliament's Employee Committee discussion on the Carcinogens Directive, the Dods EU Monitoring consultants have compiled a full briefing including the Italian 5-star MEP, Laura Agea's comments to the protection of workers whilst avoiding increasing costs for small businesses. Proposed improvements include increasing the transition phase for beryllium from 5 to 7 years and adding pharmaceutical products to the proposal to protect millions of healthcare workers.
