Debate and adoption in plenary of the Parliament's Resolution on deployment of alternative fuels infrastructure

In a push for legislative action, German Social-Democrat Ismail Ertug called for an EU-wide deployment of infrastructure for alternative fuels. He urged the European Commission, in its adopted Resolution, to quickly review the 2014 Directive. The current Commission is preparing a formal ex-post evaluation of the Directive first and will then consider if there is a need for legislative follow-up action. Possibly, the new 2019 Commission will next year take the Parliament's report on board and create a truly European infrastructure for alternative fuels
