Organic production and labelling of organic products - Dods EU Briefing

On June 12, the EU Ministers for Agriculture and Fisheries Council held a debate on the file on organic production and labelling of organic farming. During the debate, delegations discussed the main issues that are still outstanding in the negotiations and notably the issue of pesticides residues and greenhouse production. All delegations praised the Maltese Presidency for its work on the dossier but they were not all in agreement with the need to go forward on the file.
